

Vitillo Group, founded by Vitillo family 25 years ago, is a reality in constant growth and success in the production and commercialization of fittings and hoses for high pressure oil hydraulics. Vitillo Group is present all over the world, and its main strong points are the quality and the flexibility in replying to the different market needs.

The whole company philosophy has always been based on three key values:

Quality and innovation

important turnover shares are intended for Research & Development division and for the optimization of the production processes in order to anticipate and satisfy the market requirements and guarantee the absolute quality of the products. For this reason every phase of the production chain, from the rubber compounds production to the fittings galvanization process, is directly and strictly controlled.

Customer satisfaction

the customer is at the center of our project and each of us is constantly committed to guarantee the best possible response to the market and to the customer.

Human resources development the main richness of the Group are the women and the men that, with their loyalty, have contribute to create the Vitillo project. For this reason, the Group gives to all its employees learning and personal growth opportunities.

THE PRODUCTION

Since always Vitillo Group is well-known for the high quality of its products. From here in the rigid control of the raw materials quality and of the production processes and the decision to directly control the complete production and distribution chain, from the rubber compounds production to the hose-fitting system.

The production plants, located in Italy and Macedonia, are today seven: four for the fittings production, two for the hoses production and one for the rubber compounds production

THE RANGE

One of the strong point of the Group is undoubtedly the largeness and the completeness of the offered products range:
